BRINTON CASE TO TRIAL

Attorneys Ordered to Get Together and Agree Upon a Time for Trial

June term of the district court opened in Bismarck today, with Judge Nussle presiding. Several criminal cases are first on the calendar of the term, which continues until Saturday, July 2.

Among the criminal cases for trial at this term of court is that of J. W. Brinton, charged with perjury. George Foster, assistant attorney-general, and John Sullivan, of Mandan, and Arthur Le Sueur, of St. Paul, attorneys for Brinton, were present in the courtroom.

The representatives of the attorney-general's office and the lawyers for the defense conferred as to the time of trial, but reached no agreement during the morning and were to confer further. Brinton's attorneys said they were ready for trial.

Those arraigned: J. W. Pauly and Pearl Pauly, liquor charge, will plead tomorrow; Axel Johnson, having liquor in his possession, will plead tomorrow; George Gandy, liquor charge, pleaded not guilty; Henry Opperman, sodomy, pleaded not guilty; R. P. Mitchell, charged with assault on E. G. Patterson, pleaded not guilty; W. J. Hogan, convict who escaped from the penitentiary, will plead tomorrow; William Kusch, pleaded guilty to charge of keeping and maintaining nuisance; same plea by Anton Oberg; Mrs. Nettie Clute pleaded guilty to making home brew, to plead tomorrow.

In the cases of William Kusch and Anton Oberg, States Attorney F. E. McCurdy recommended that sentence be deferred to the men are farmers and have to put in crops. The charge involved making or sale of liquor. They were released and ordered to appear in court Saturday, July 2.

The criminal cases will be disposed of first and will require several days, it is indicated. The civil calendar was called, and civil cases will follow the criminal. There are not many civil cases of importance for trial.

MONTANA HAS GOOD PROSPECT
FOR FINE CROPReport Covering Northwest
Conditions Says They Generally Are Favorable

The weekly crop summary of Van Dusen, Harrington, Company, of Minneapolis, follows:

"Our reports on the crops this week from practically every section of the Northwest are very favorable. Conditions at the present time measure well up with those of the big crop of 1915. Since our last report the weather has been cool and very favorable for the growth of all grains, except corn. Except in a very few small districts, there is sufficient moisture in the present time, throughout the territory.

"The state of Montana has the best prospects in a number of years for a big crop. The Northern part of the state which has been so dry for the past five or six years is in fine condition. In the Central part of the state during May, the precipitation was the heaviest in several years. The South-eastern part of the state is a little dry. In some places Montana cut worms have appeared and some districts in North Dakota report grasshoppers. So far we believe the damage has been slight.

"The color and stand of wheat throughout the Northwest are excellent and frost apparently did little damage. We have received reports of oats having a slightly yellow tinge as a result of frost. The cool weather has been very favorable for rye and it is showing a very good condition. "The corn crop is quite spotted. In the Southern territory the fields are quite weedy, as the wet soil has prevented proper cultivation. In the Northern districts the weather has been too cool for the best development of corn, but the fields have been cultivated and are very clean.

"During the past week we have made careful inquiries regarding the alfalfa situation. From our last reports we believe our estimate of 40 per cent of last year's acreage is conservative. "There is a very good movement of wheat at the present time. With prospects of good crops in the Northwest, farmers are now selling some of their grain which has been held in storage for the first time in months we have received complaints of a shortage of cars in the country, suitable for grain loading."

SELF DEFENSE IS PLEA.
Valley City, N. D., June 13.—That William Jensen, former Valley City policeman, was attacked by several young men led by Roy Kernkamp, while he was in the act of arresting them, Dr. Paul Featherstone, charged with being drunk; that he was knocked down by someone and that, in discharging his revolver as an alarm on the night of March 12, 1921, was the bullet which killed William Olson, the defense offered by Jensen in his trial here charged with manslaughter in the first degree.

JUDGES "SEE DOUBLE" AT GREAT TWINS PARTY

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Omaha, June 13.—At the twins hereabouts are going to have a picnic this summer. They had a party recently and 128 pairs attended.

A. D. Koger and his wife of Council Bluffs won a prize for the greatest number of twins in one family. They had three pairs.

Students of hereditary influence would have enjoyed many features of the party. For instance, these Koger twins.

All of them were born in August. Their father was born in August. His parents had twins. Mrs. Koger's uncle fathered a pair. Her sister has a pair.

In all except three of the mixed pairs of twins the girls were bigger than the boys.

Prizes were given for the oldest, youngest, prettiest and most similar pairs of twins. Judges literally "saw double."

Doyle Morris, of Tennant, Iowa, and Mrs. F. L. Kellogg, of Harlan, Iowa, 72, were the oldest.

Twins separated for years met at the party.

And everybody wore tags so "which could be distinguished from 'other."

WHEAT SOARS
TO NEW HIGHHot Weather and Black Rust
Causes Upward Turn

Chicago, June 13.—Hot weather and black rust made the wheat market soar today. July and September deliveries went to new high prices records for the season. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1 to 4 1/2 cents higher, with July $1.39 1/2 to $1.41 1/4 and September to $1.28 were followed by material further gains.

Later the market underwent a sharp setback as a result of heavy selling due more or less to enlarged country offerings and to rapid progress of the harvest. The close was unsettled, 1 1/4 cents net higher.

SOUTH DAKOTA
LANDS DOUBLED
IN ASSESSMENT

Pierre, S. D., June 13.—South Dakota agricultural lands, including their structures, have on the average nearly doubled in assessed valuation within the last seven years, or since the creation of the state tax commission in 1912, the records of that department show. The first biennial report of the commission showing the number of acres and their assessed valuation including the buildings on the land, taken from the 1915 assessment gives a total of 29,841,049 acres having a value of $764,908,016, or an average of $25.63 per acre.

Compared with this report covering the 1920 assessment shows a total of 34,450,683 acres of assessed agricultural land which with the buildings are valued at $1,637,865,238, an average of $44.64 per acre.

DOESN'T BAR DISLOYALISTS.

Evidently Delayed in Transmission

London, June 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Rear Admiral Sims said this morning he had not received the cable message from Sec. Denby cancelling the remainder of his leave of absence and ordering him to report as soon as possible in Washington.

The admiral told the interviewer that he believed Secretary Denby's message had been dispatched because of delayed response asking if he (Admiral Sims) had been correctly quoted in his address last week in which he criticized Americans in sympathy with the Irish Republic. Admiral Sims insisted that the delay in his reply was due only to delay in transmission.

300 KILLED IN CHINESE FIGHTTrain Looted by Soldiers Who Are Overcome

Peking, China, June 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Reports from Hankow today state that a train containing soldiers who looted Wuchang on the right bank of the Yangtze River, opposite Hankow, was sidetracked at Slackin and freed on with machine guns by local troops, upwards of 300 being killed or wounded. Those escaping the first fire were pursued and shot down, the reports say, the dead lying in heaps beside the track.

The loot said to have been carried off by the soldiers was recovered.

POOLING PLANS TO BE MERGED,
SAYS DISPATCHWheat Growers Reported to Have Agreed with United Grain Growers

CHICAGO ANNOUNCEMENT

Organizers for Wheat Growers for Burleigh County Named at Meeting Here

The fight between the United Grain Growers Inc., the wheat selling agency formerly by the American Farm Bureaus, and the Wheat Growers Association will be ended by an agreement reached between the two organizations, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Chicago, which quotes the announcement made at the offices of the United Grain Growers Inc.

The dispatch said: "An agreement by which the Northwest Wheat Growers Association is to become a component part of the United Grain Growers Inc., was announced."

Two Contracts
At the present time in North Dakota the two organizations are preparing to sign farmers to wheat pooling contracts, the United Grain Growers contract providing for optional pooling while the Wheat Growers contract calls for compulsory pooling for sales purposes for a period of five years.

Representatives of the farm bureaus held a meeting in Bismarck two weeks ago to discuss their plan and an organization meeting of the Wheat Growers Association was held in Bismarck Saturday afternoon. At the meeting in Bismarck the Wheat Growers placed J. Wallman, of Baldwin, in charge of contracts in Burleigh county. He also has directed to begin signing of contracts immediately.

Doubts Report
J. M. Wilson, organizer for the Wheat Growers Association today expressed doubt as to the news of the reported merger. He declared that if there was a merger it would be that the Grain Growers would accept the Wheat Growers compulsory pool plan, which is the chief bone of contention between them. Another is the method of financing the Grain Growers plan calling for a hundred million dollar organization while the Grain Growers propose to finance their sales through local banks and bonded warehouses.

A Slaughter, of Oklahoma, one of the leaders of the Wheat Growers, who was here for the Saturday meeting, left Bismarck for Jamestown, to hold a meeting. N. B. Wicks went to Grand Forks to begin signing contracts with farmers in that section.

BURDICK STICKS
FARGO, JUNE 13.—L. Burdick, president of the North Dakota Farm Bureau federation, has declined the position of assistant general counsel for the United States Grain Growers Inc., recently offered him, he announced today on his return to Chicago. He declined so that he might retain his present position on the corporation board of directors, he said.

CONDITIONS IN
SLOPE COUNTRY
GENERALLY GOODWeather Bureau Reports Say
Only Few Spots Are in Need of Rain

MERCURY GOES UP TO 98

Dickinson Hottest Place in State on Sunday, Records of Bureau Show

Crop conditions generally over the western half of North Dakota are good, according to reports received by the United States Weather Bureau here from correspondents in various parts.

Although the rains for the most part have been local showers, most of the territory has received sufficient rain. Between New Salem and Dickinson there has not been sufficient rainfall and there are spots on the South Slope where the rainfall has been light, according to O. W. Roberts, weather observer, but generally the crop conditions are the best in years.

Reports from Bottineau and Williston state that crops are looking in fine condition in territory which has been hit harder by drought than any other part of the state.

Mercury Near 100
The thermometer took an upward shoot to midsummer heat Saturday and Sunday. The highest temperature recorded in the state was at Dickinson, where the thermometer touched 98 above. It was 92 above at Bismarck before the rain Saturday afternoon, and was 92 at Dunn Center and Napoleon.

The rain which fell in Bismarck Saturday evening drenched territory in Burleigh county from Baldwin north to Williston and beyond. A half-inch rain fell in two hours. According to the weather bureau, the rain followed the course of the river, the heavy rain falling in the south as far as ten miles north of Bismarck, the rain did not go much beyond Bismarck. The heavy rain did not go far east in Burleigh county.

Cut worms are doing some damage to corn, according to reports from weather stations. No other threatened damage to crops is reported.

Rainfall Scattered.
The rainfall over the state in the 48 hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning was scattered, the telegraphic reports of the bureau show. The reports on rain in this period follows: Amenla, none; Bismarck, .07; Bottineau, .04; Bowbells, none; Devils Lake, .21; Dickinson, .01; Dunn Center, .05; Ellendale, .19; Fessenden, .47; Grand Forks, .16; Jamestown, none; Langdon, .04; Larimore, .17; Lisbon, none; Minot, .07; Napoleon, .30; Pembina, none; Wahpeton, none; Williston, .19; Fargo, .06.

Probable showers were indicated for tonight.

CAMP MEETING
WILL BE HELD IN MANDAN SOONSeventh Day Adventists Announce Annual Meeting,
June 16-26

The 19th camp meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists denomination of North Dakota will be held this year at Mandan, June 16-26.

These assemblies have had much to do with the upbuilding of the work in this state since the work began 19 years ago. The meetings in the different cities of the state of North Dakota.

The city of Mandan has kindly given the use of the fair grounds. This gathering is not especially for the S. D. A. people, but is for all. Topics of great importance will be discussed in the light of prophecy, it is stated.

"We will do our best to accommodate all visiting friends, making it home-like for them and find seating capacity at all meetings, and especially during our main meetings which will be held at 11 a. m., 2 p. m., and 8 p. m. We have a large tent on the grounds for the young people's meetings, which will be held each day," says the announcement of the meeting.

"A complete program of all the meetings will appear in a later issue. All meetings are free to the public and we hereby extend a welcome to all the citizens of our neighboring cities to attend."

"In connection with this camp meeting we also have a cafeteria in the main building of the grounds, where meals will be served at the regular hours at a reasonable price.

"The city of Mandan has done all in its power to accommodate us in every way possible, and we are more than grateful to them for their kind new in assisting us. We are doing all we can to instruct those that camp on the grounds to do all they can for the mutual welfare of the camp, as well as the city."

A welcome to all its extended Meetings will be held in the English, German, Scandinavian and Russian languages."

Streets

STREET NO-MAN'S LAND

Belfast, June 13.—(By the Associated Press).—Rioting last night added four more victims to Belfast's week-end death toll, three being killed in renewed disturbances in York street and the fourth being shot during sniping activities in Cashmir road in the Falls division.

A peculiar feature of the York street outbreak was that the combatants adopted mostly the method of firing through windows and skylights from which bullets flew in all directions. The area became a veritable no-man's land and it was only at the greatest risk that the police even in armored cars dared enter the danger zone.

Startling Revelations in Crime
Made in Statement by One,
Police Say

WAS CAREFULLY PLANNED

Women Hired Assassins Who Visited House to "Get Lay" is Charge

Cleveland, O., June 13.—Four women are formally charged with the murder of Daniel F. Kaber, who was stabbed 24 times by hired assassins in his home in Lakewood, O., two years ago. Mrs. Krimmla Colavito, 32, was booked on a charge of murder early today after she had made startling revelations to police. Others charged with the crime and who are under first degree murder indictments are Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber, widow of the slain man; Marion McArdle, her daughter, and Mrs. Mary Brickel, 69 years old, mother of Mrs. Kaber. Indications were that further indictments would be returned by the grand jury today.

Describes Plan of Crime.
Mrs. Colavito described in a signed statement, authorities say, how two days before the murder Kaber's assassins had the two women visit Mrs. McArdle played the piano to drown the noise of their footsteps.

She is also alleged to have said that the assassin demanded $5,000 for committing the crime but that Mrs. Kaber declared she would not pay it unless her husband was killed with some weapon so that she could collect an insurance policy.

This was denied by Mrs. Kaber. She declared four men were employed to do the killing and two to remain outside as lookouts.

Offered Auto.
A man, when questioned, is declared to have told the officers that Mrs. Kaber offered him a large residence on Euclid avenue if he "would do the work for her" and also stated she would give him a big automobile "if he would promise to run down her husband and kill him with it."

These statements Mrs. Kaber also denied. Attempts by police to apprehend any of the four assassins whose names they know so far have been unsuccessful.

in Business

Washington, June 13.—Extensive tabulations showing profits of terminal and country grain elevators were submitted to congress today by the federal trade commission as being appropriate to consideration of the many pending bills to regulate the grain trade and the wide public interest on the grain marketing problem.

The commission forwarded the tables without comment or recommendation for companies in Kansas City, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Duluth, the report said, showing the rate of return on total investment ranging from 8 to 20 per cent over a period of years. Excluding a return in borrowed funds the returns, except for extreme years, ranged between 22 and 25 per cent.

DODGE BROTHERS PRICE DECREASE IS REMARKABLE

Car Fully Equipped With Cord
Tires Sell Below $1,000
at Factory

Probably the most generally interesting news of the past week, in connection with the automobile industry, was the telegram sent to all Dodge Brothers dealers announcing a substantial reduction in the prices of all Dodge Brothers cars.

In view of the fact that Dodge Brothers, within the last two weeks, have added greatly to the well known value of their cars by putting 4-inch cord tires on all models, this substantial reduction in all of their prices was entirely unexpected.

When a car which is so highly regarded and so favorably known for its strong, sturdy construction, economical upkeep and long life, can be equipped with 4-inch cord tires and built up to the factory for less than $1,000, it is most convincing proof and the highest compliment to the engineering skill and manufacturing economies of Dodge Brothers organization.

The intrinsic value and true worth of Dodge Brothers cars, even when selling at peak prices, has never been questioned, while on the present basis that value per dollar is greatly increased.

U. S. SHOULD ASSURE ALL A CHANCE TO WORK

BY JOHN HAYS HAMMOND.
Highest Salaried Man in the World.
That we may profit by the lessons of the past, the philosopher of today seeks an epoch in history for a parallel, but he searches in vain for a period where the calamity of war, with its aftermath, is comparable in magnitude of that of the great war of our day.

Indeed, the only tragedy comparable in loss of life is the "black death" that devastated Europe about the middle of the 14th century, where the mortality was more than one third of the entire population.

We have traveled over a rough and treacherous road the past year, and while today the going is not especially good, the road ahead seems far better than it looked to us a year ago.

At that time bolshevism was a menace to orderly government throughout Europe. Today bolshevism has virtually spent its force.

Should Guard Route.
We are all now agreed that what government can and should do is to assure to all men and women a chance to work and win, according to their talent and diligence and their moral fiber, and to guard the path to success from obstruction of trickery, fraud, oppression or monopoly.

There has been a great improvement in the labor situation, not only in this country, but abroad within recent months. Productivity has increased very considerably, although by no means has it reached the efficiency essential to industrial prosperity, upon which the welfare of labor itself is dependent.

Another reassuring circumstance is that we shall shortly have a revision of the tariff. There is fortunately a growing disposition to regard the tariff as an economic rather than a political issue. In the tariff revision we must be cognizant of the fact that we are at present a creditor nation; that Europe cannot pay even the interest upon our loans in gold, nor would the payment in gold be altogether to our advantage.

If we accept her products we must greatly curtail the operation of our own mills, involving widespread industrial distress.

Enough For All.
On the other hand, if we place an embargo on the products of our allies, they will find difficult in repaying their loans.

The tariff must be one which, while providing for admission of these products of Europe having a stabilizing influence on our own commodity price levels, will at the same time avoid the danger of irreparable damage to our home industries and home market. It must also be a bargaining tariff to enable us to prevent discrimination by other nations, in favor of our competitors.

The fact is recognized by economists who have studied the world's natural resources that the potential wealth is sufficient to assure a state of universal prosperity.

There would be, in short, an abundance of everything necessary for the comfort and well being of the billion, seven hundred million people who inhabit the earth, if the world's resources were utilized.

What is required are the means for the development of these countries together with facilities to transport their products to markets where they would be welcomed. America is the only nation competent to undertake the financing of this great project. It would be a great service to humanity and at the same time of incalculable benefit to our own country.

One of the great burdens which the present generation has had to bear is the economic waste involved in "armed peace." Today, in spite of the fact that many of the great nations of the world are on the verge of bankruptcy, there is an uninterrupted increase of naval armaments.

Disarmament can be effected by a straightforward, unequivocal message from our government to England and Japan, to the effect that the United States has no ambition to attain the supremacy of the seas, but that she is nevertheless determined not to accept a subordinate naval position. When these nations fully realize the futility of competing with us to gain naval superiority, they will gladly and quickly agree to the limitations of naval armaments—and not before.

An Announcment by The Studebaker Corporation of America

Eight months ago, when the costs of material and labor appeared to have reached their peak, we made substantial reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars. These reductions were in anticipation of our ability, after the turn of the year, to purchase materials and to fabricate them at lower costs.

The expected savings have been realized.

With them, other savings have been made, as a result of the greatly increased volume which Studebaker has this year enjoyed.

During the first five months of 1921, our volume of business has exceeded that of any other automobile manufacturer except Ford.

The Studebaker plants are running at capacity with unfilled orders on hand for over 7,000 cars.

In this quarter we shall produce 21,000 automobiles against 11,000 in the corresponding period of last year. This is an increase of approximately 100 per cent.

No other automobile manufacturer is making a comparable showing.

We believe that the confidence of the buying public, which has made and is making this record possible, will continue, because it is supported by the quality and value of our products, and these we shall uphold.

We expect that as a consequence the present economical and efficient production basis can be maintained and that we are justified in making further reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars.

SAYS SCENERY IN BAD LANDS IS REMARKABLE

Writer Describes Section of North Dakota Little Known

NATIONAL PARK URGED

Section Would Be Preserved For Future Generations in Wild State

How many people of North Dakota realize that, within our state, we have a section a section containing some of the most wonderful scenery in the world? asks C. B. Olsen, of Medora, in the North Dakota Good Roads Magazine. Almost every nation and a large number of our states can boast of wonderful mountains, and every one of them can show you beautiful spots that would please and delight any lover of nature, but North Dakota, along the Little Missouri river, rightly takes pride in the only real Bad Lands on this earth.

Features of Bad Lands
The name was given to this region not to indicate the worthlessness of the soil, but as being descriptive of its topography. There is no country that is exactly comparable to the Bad Lands. In all things our only standard of value is comparison. The only comparison ever advanced for the Bad Lands, by travelers who knew, is to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, and that only in a general sense, as they are viewed from the top of one of the higher buttes from which one can see on all sides, miles and miles of a conglomerate of small mountain ranges, and beautiful little valleys, barren multi-colored clay buttes, grassy, thinly wooded creek bottoms, scoria topped buttes, and wooded river bottoms, grassy hills and sage brush flats, rugged rocky buttes, canyons, washouts, and small plateaus as smooth as a table and as green as grass can make them, and everywhere, in every direction, in large patches and small ones, there is the dark green of our wonderful red cedars. And sometimes, "when the sun does his best, painting everlasting glory on the mountains of the west," it is hard to tell where fantastically colored hills leave off and the sky begins. The wonderful sunsets of the region are rivaled only by the gorgeousness of the sunrises.

Don't Agree
Scientists rarely agree in regard to the history and formation of the Bad Lands. Many theories are suggested. Some claim this to be the oldest part of the earth's surface. Others, that at one time this country was an extensive low level valley, subject at different periods of ages, to a countless number of inundations. A sometimes between these two periods there was an interval enough for a seed in such abundance as to form, when the next flood covered the valley with its deposit of soil carried down from the surrounding higher lands, veins of coal as much as 60 feet thick. Other shorter, or less productive periods are evidenced by the lesser veins of coal; some only a few inches in depth. The difference in the magnitude of these inundations is easily detected by the different depths of soil deposited, and that they did not originate in the same district is clearly indicated by the different colors and compositions of the soils carried down. In the more recent ages since the topography of the North American continent has changed sufficiently to discontinue the Flood Period, the water-shed has directed a portion of the drain over this part of North Dakota forming the Little Missouri river and its tributary creeks. In the earlier part of this period as immense river covering this entire part of western North and South Dakota and eastern Montana washed away all the surface of the valley to a depth of 300 or 400 feet indicated by the teepee buttes, the Cave Hills, Table Mountain and others in northwestern South Dakota; the Twin Buttes, Talbot Butte, Sentinel Butte, etc., in western North Dakota. The top of these buttes are virtually on a level. The balance of the country comprises the rolling plains of the West river country.

Ruthless Process
Then the Little Missouri and its tributaries began a ruthless process of cutting through this lower surface. The top of the butte in the Bad Lands are on a level with the surrounding plains. The water, aided by the winds and storms has succeeded in fashioning a country marvelously fascinating to the eye and intensely interesting and valuable to science. The Little Missouri valley is from 400 to 500 feet lower than the surrounding prairie. And the cut banks of the river and on the bald sided buttes the numerous strata of different soils of every conceivable color appear as far as the eye can see at exactly the same position and level. And viewed after a storm when the buttes are "as the wind behind the rain" the brilliant hues present an aspect of exquisite beauty.

Habitat of Buffalo
Mr. Olsen, in his article, tells how this wild land was the natural habitat of the buffalo, elk, deer and other wild animals. The coming of stock men drove out these animals, but in some regions of the Bad Lands a score of species of wild animals are found. Urging the claims of this country to the attention of the tourist, he concludes:

To us it seems almost lamentable that a country so picturesque and interesting should be so little known, when it ought to be the playground for thousands and thousands of city-wearers people each year. To our knowledge there is only one summer resort in the entire Bad Lands, only one place where tourists may go at any time and feel welcome where one may spend his entire vacation, roaming the hills at his leisure on one of the sure-footed saddle horses of the country. This is the Peaceful Valley Ranch near Medora. Medora is on the Northern Pacific railroad where things happen thick and fast.

DODGE WIDOW GETS HALF MILLION FOR LIVING EXPENSE

Detroit, Mich., June 13.—Mrs. Ann Thompson Dodge, widow of Horace E. Dodge, the automobile manufacturer, asked for and was allowed $500,000 for one year's living expenses, in probate court today. The award was made by Judge Edgar O. Durfee as the result of a petition filed by Mrs. Dodge. The petition declared that Mr. Dodge in the seven years preceding his death has spent more than $1,000,000 annually for the living costs of the family. There are two children, Delphine Dodge Cromwell and Horace E. Dodge Jr. Mrs. Dodge said the report that she needed $40,000 a month for her own support and to help support the son and daughter. Judge Durfee allowed an even $500,000 for the year beginning Tuesday.

BUCK PRIVATE TO COMMANDER

C. L. Dawson, North Dakota Legion Man, Rises From Lowest to Highest Rank.

From the lowest rank in the military service to the highest grade conferred by the ex-service men of his state is the record jump made by C. L. Dawson of Beach, N. D., recently appointed national field representative of the American Legion.

From buck private to department commander of the American Legion in North Dakota tells the story of Mr. Dawson's rise. Although well past middle age, he enlisted as a private in the Balloon corps soon after war was declared. After fifteen months at Fort Omaha, he was discharged with the rank of private first class. He was chief clerk of the North Dakota legislature during its last session.

As department commander and national executive committee member, Mr. Dawson was largely responsible in building up a strong organization of the Legion in North Dakota. He is a graduate of the University of North Dakota and before entering the service was state's attorney at Golden Valley, N. D.

IDEALS OF AMERICAN LEGION
Stand of Bill Dowling Post of Chadron, Neb., Has Brought Much Favorable Comment.

The ideals of the American Legion are explained in a published announcement of Bill Dowling Post of Chadron, Neb., which has drawn much favorable comment from Legion posts in the Middle West. The announcement read:

"To the public—No, we are not organized to 'gun the country' or 'rob the government.' Read the preamble to our constitution.

"To politicians—We stand for 'politics not politics.'

"To capitalists—Some of us are capitalists; all of us are laborers.

"To labor—Read what Samuel Gompers has to say in regard to labor and the Legion.

"To all ex-service men—Let's stick together. We started it over there; let's finish it in the American Legion.

"To all un-Americans—Look out for the American Legion!"

AT THE MOVIES

DOUBLE BILL AT THE REX.
"Payment Guaranteed," which is showing at the Rex theater today and Tuesday, is an intensely interesting drama which might have been named "The Blindness of Love." The girl in the drama is the man to whom she is engaged and persistently believes in his infidelity, even when his love for her was merely the veil with which he covered a business deal. "The other man" in the drama saw the mistake the girl was bent on making and here is the scene on the Northern Pacific railroad where things happen thick and fast.

WAR ON LEGION BACHELORS

Women's Auxiliary of Sunflower State Issues Ultimatum to Unmarried Ex-Service Fellows.

War on bachelors has been declared in Kansas. Women of the Sunflower State contend that unmarried men can't get along without them.

In furtherance of the fight, Miss McCoy of Topeka, Department secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion is spreading the word.

Who else can give you fine home cooking with your banquets? Who else can straighten up the club house and give it a homelike appearance? Who knows more about service than the women? the propaganda reads. Legion prisoners captured in the campaign are being treated to fried chicken, pies, cakes and damings and patchings.

Fresh doughnuts, bread and rolls every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at the Woman's Exchange. Mrs. N. W. Kelly, 211 Broadway.

Fannie Hurst, who is noted for her realistic studies of Jewish life, never struck a more intensely human note than she attained in "Humoresque."

BIG SHUBERT REVUE COMING

Al Jolson, the world's most famous entertainer, will be the gay attraction at the Auditorium June 17, in the Winter Garden's massively magnificent travesty, "Sinbad." Al Jolson, incomparable singer of comic songs, a his drumfire of drollery and cannonade of comicities, is now enjoying en route to the Pacific coast, prodigious success that was accorded him on nearly two full years of "Sinbad" in New York City. Al Jolson is unquestionably the greatest singer of comic songs known to the stage of his day. He is, indeed, an inimitable individual. But even without Jolson, "Sinbad" with its fourteen glittering scenes of gorgeous oriental color, would be a remarkable enjoyable entertainment, for the reason that Harold Aldridge has provided an extravaganza of the first quality, and that the Messrs. Shubert have surrounded Mr. Jolson with an unusually fine company of artists. Then, too, there is an ensemble of feminine beauty, unequalled since the days of the Grand Caliph of Bagdad. In fact, all the glitter, glory and glamor of the Arabian Nights is presented upon a scale of magnificent magnitude heretofore unknown to the native stage.

TELLS HISTORY OF CAMP LEWIS IN WORLD WAR

Wife of Former Bismarck Newspaper Man Publishes Book
That Wins Favor

Mrs. Alice Palmer Henderson, wife of one of the pioneer residents of Bismarck, has published a book entitled "The Ninety-First, The First at Camp Lewis," an authentic and complete history of the training of soldiers at Camp Lewis, Washington, during the World War.

Mrs. Henderson's husband, E. A. Henderson, was city editor of the Bismarck Tribune in the early '80s, and Mrs. Henderson was a St. Paul newspaper woman before their marriage. With Capt. John C. Barr, formerly agent for the Coulson line of steamships on the Missouri river, and well known among older residents of Bismarck, the Hendersons went to Alaska in the boom days. They remained there for years, Mr. Henderson being a clerk of court and engaged in business and Capt. Barr commanding a steamship on the Yukon river. They later returned to Tacoma, Wash., to live and it was while there that Mrs. Henderson studied conditions at Camp Lewis.

The book was published by Capt. Barr, Mrs. M. H. Jewell, of Bismarck, has received an autograph copy of the book, which is profusely illustrated, Mrs. Jewell being an old friend of both author and publisher.

The Tacoma News-Tribune, speaking of the book, says:

"Recognition as a contribution to the really worth-while literature of the war has been coming recently to 'The Ninety-First, The First at Camp Lewis,' by Alice Palmer Henderson, from many of the great historical libraries and other educational institutions of the world.

"Copies of this Tacoma-written and Tacoma-published book that deals so ably with the founding of Camp Lewis and gives such a wealth of interesting information concerning the 91st division, the first to be assembled, trained and sent to France from the cantonment, have gone into the libraries of every state, the Library of Congress, the Boston State Historical Society and the libraries in England, France, Canada, and even far-away Lithuania.

"The latest order for the book came from the minister of public instruction and fine arts of the French Republic for a volume to be placed in the Library and Museum of War.

The letter from the French official also requests of Mrs. Henderson copies of any publications of her own on the war or subject related to it or on peace problems and reconstruction."

BEAR RAIDS

A business man says:

"It's just 20 years since the famous Northern Pacific corner in Wall Street. At times, that day, the tape was 30 minutes behind. U. S. Steel plunged from 47 down to 24, so fast it took your breath. When the stock market worries you, just think of the speculators of 1900. Or get grandpa to tell you about Black Friday of 1873. It'll cheer you up."

Husband and wife boss each other, says Lady Astor. She's half right!

CHEAP

Americans spent $7 each to see the movies in 1920, says a government report.

Tell that to the Bismarck gent with blue glasses who thinks movies are extravagance.

Movies are the principal and in many cases the only amusement of the American citizen. They help you forget your troubles, and give you excitement for which rich ancient kings would have paid their weight in gold.

For such services $7 a head is a very moderate expenditure.

Death's sting has been found. There's a housing shortage in Murderer's Row at Sing Sing.

FLYING POSTMEN

You now can mail a letter in New York and the air mail, with good luck, can deliver it to San Francisco in less than 50 hours.

Old-timers can recall the excitement of December, 1860, before the transcontinental telegraph was completed, when the Pony Express carried President Buchanan's last message to Congress from Washington to San Francisco in eight days and two hours.

What'll they have in the year 2000 that'll make 1921 air mail service seem as slow as the Pony Express seems today?

Advertising man named to head shipping board. We thought it already had enough advertising.

ANOTHER GOLD RUSH

From the Far North, Canadian Indians bring a story about a river of gold. Prospectors are rushing northward.

A wild goose chase, you say? You are probably right! The real gold mines are the opportunities right here in Bismarck.

Men have hunted gold since history began. Yet only 30,000 tons of gold are above the earth's surface today. Maybe 1 in 100 seekers finds the gold horde.

But look about you and you'll see the average of success runs higher among your neighbors.

In Chicago one stenographer out of every 10 marries her employer. And that ends his dictation.

KNOW BISMARCK

The out-of-town visitor usually has the edge on you, in one respect, in your home city.

When he winds up his visit and pulls out for home he carries with him memories of many places that are of unusual interest.

And you, who live right here in Bismarck—have you ever been to these places? Chances are that you haven't!

Better perk up and look about you. You'll be surprised at what you have missed. And the next time you visit some other town you can talk, with authority, about the beauty spots and the places of interest in this home city of yours.

Two thousand chorus girls are stranded in Chicago. A prize of one German mark to any one that can pick them out of the usual crowds in the Loop.

NOT AS BAD AS IT SEEMS

On its face, the statement of Charles M. Schwab that the steel industry is experiencing its worst slump in 40 years, that production is on the basis of about 25 per cent of capacity, is most discouraging.

But it is less discouraging if one remembers that "it is always darkest just before the dawn."

When one realizes that the virtual non-production of steel as well as other goods over any considerable period of time means that sooner or later the shortage will have to be made up, the outlook is more hopeful.

Just when the business revival which must accompany the production of goods to meet demand, will occur, cannot be predicted with certainty.

But there are many evidences that it will not be as long delayed as some of the pessimists would have us believe.

The reports from Europe as a whole indicate that a slow but sure change for the better is occurring.

This is bound to be reflected in better conditions in this country.

But leaving Europe out of the equation, it is not reasonable to suppose that the combined genius of the hundred and ten million people in this country is unequal to the task of making the necessary readjustments in their industrial machine, so that it will function to produce the goods which they require for their comfort and happiness.

In the final analysis that is all there is to the problem.

Business, reduced to its simplest terms, is merely supplying each other's wants.

In the modern world this is a complicated process, but it is absurd to assume that the people are not capable of soon getting control of the machine which they have created for this purpose.

Chicago music dealers say jazz airs are giving way to old-time melodies. Hope they don't revive "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree."

THE "CORRUPTION" OF YOUTH

"He was the wisest man France has ever produced," has often been said of Montaigne. He lived and wrote his incomparable essays 350 years ago.

In one of them he speaks of the corruption of the age in which he was living, with particular reference to its influence on the rising generation. So sure was he that the children of those days were headed straight for the bow-wows that he was thankful he had been spared the responsibility of rearing children of his own. This, although he was the kindest of men and loved children.

It is too bad the wise Montaigne didn't go into the details of the calamitous conditions to which he refers.

It would be interesting to compare them with the short skirts, open-work stockings, jazz and cigarets of today.

Pessimist and pest sound somewhat alike.

Do you remember the good old days when you used to grab the paper every night to see what Bethlehem Steel was doing?

You'd think those American golfers would get around the course faster, considering what the English have in their lockers.

New York has 40 of the 67 Americans whose income exceeds $1,000,000 a year. They must be the owners of New York City hotels.

It was about this time of year, long ago, that James B. Elmore, the sweet singer of Alamo, Ind., wrote that immortal poem, "Sassafras."

There may be argument about what is the greatest word in the English language, but for a phrase you can't beat "Enclosed find check."

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of the Tribune. They are, however, of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE RAILROAD WAGE CUT

An average of 12 per cent reduction in the wages of the railroad workers does not measure up to what the railroad managers have declared to be necessary. Still it is estimated that it will total a saving of $400,000,000 in the aggregate cost of railroad operation in the country, and if the national working rules have been as burdensome as has been claimed, their revision will add fully as much more to the relief of the operating problem.

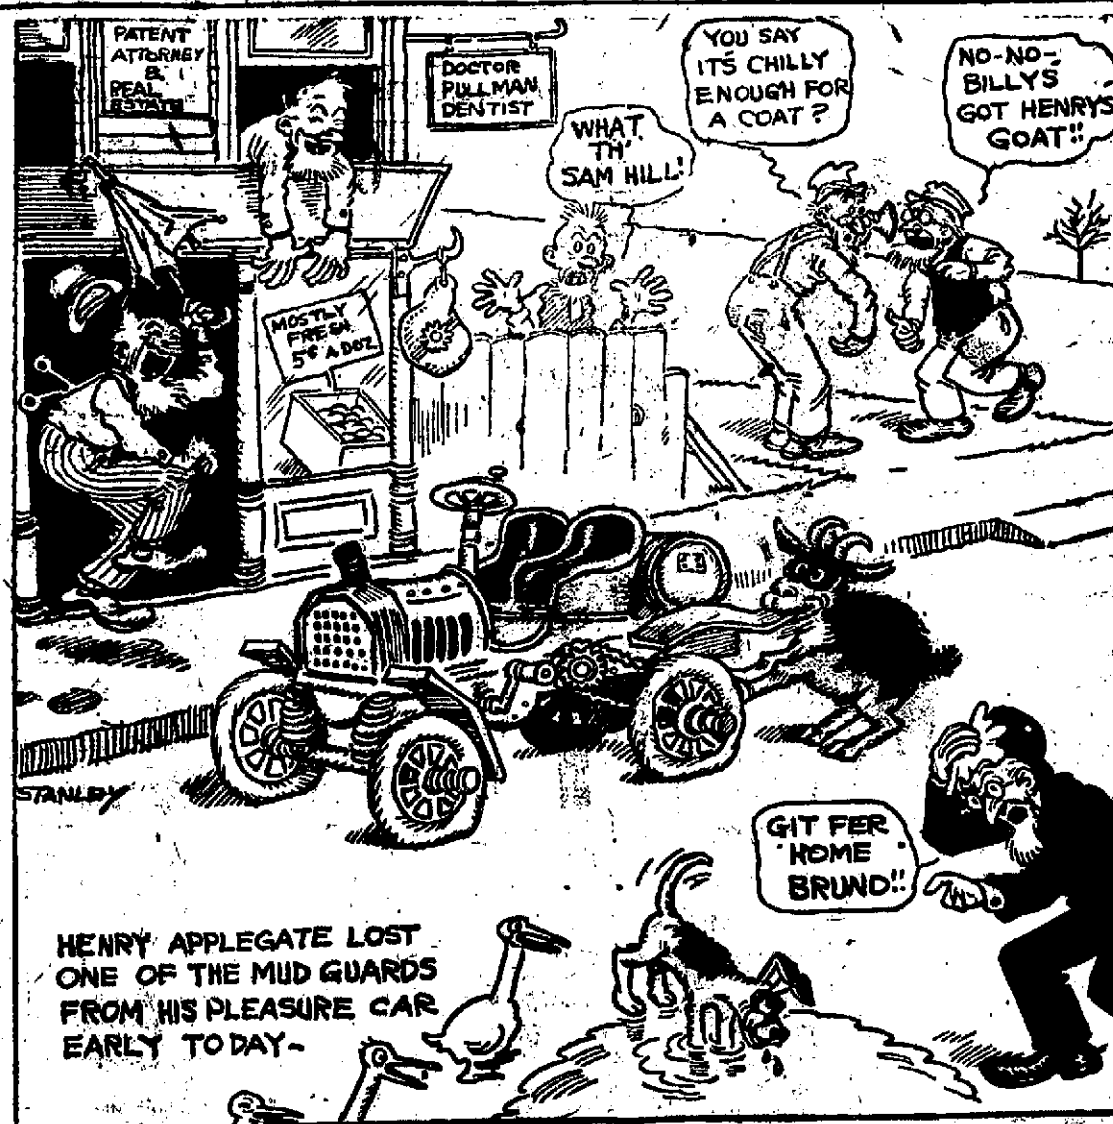

The cut in wages which has now been ordered does not cover in full, at least in the great majority of classifications, the increase which was granted last year. It still leaves the workers with a considerable gain over their pay envelopes of the pre-war period, and it does not seem, in its initial survey, to be inconsistent with the general lowering of commodity prices.

If the railroad managers think that it should be more, they must bear in mind that some of the essential costs of living are still high, and that in these the cost of transportation bears an important part and furnishes an excuse for the obstinacy against reduction. This is notably true in the price of coal, to an extent it is true in the cost of housing, and in other items of the common budget desired reductions would be helped by—if they do not actually wait upon—reduced freight rates.

The new scale is one which might well be accepted by both the managers and the workers of the railroad systems as a step in readjustment capable of serving their joint interests as well as that of the public.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Jack Frost hurried around from place to place, blowing his breath on everything.

How Old Man Wood got up to the sky again, no one told me, so I can't tell you. But I saw him being held as Jack Frost hurried around from place to place, blowing his breath on everything and putting the ice-stoppers back into place, the water in Riddle Creek got lower and lower and less yellow and muddy, until the stream looked quite like its old beautiful self again. They do say that Torty Turtle, and some of his ancestors were swept right down to the river and almost out to sea, and that, traveling so slowly, it took the way they do, they haven't quite got back home yet. But isn't it a good thing that Jack Frost put a stop to things when he did, as Sprinkle-Blow told him? For if the turtle family had been carried all the way out to sea there isn't any doubt that their health would have been ruined. Salt water is good for some turtles, but not for Torty's kind, and you know and I know that sea-water is as salty as bacon.

All the water folk were put to it to find their own homes again, and Phil Frog and his wife are still trying to find some of their lost tadpole children. Phil is worried for fear their tails will shrink and their legs grow in without him being there to see, and, as he says, what's the use of having a family if you can't watch it grow up? But I am sure that everything will be settled by and by, and everybody will get back where he belongs sometime.

One thing sure, Nancy and Nick learned a lesson. That sometimes the things that we don't mean to do cause, the most mischief, and they resolved to be very careful thereafter. (Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Enterprise Co.)

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Bismarck, N. D., June 13, 1921.

To the Editor:

The American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic is seeking favorable action of the United States on the matter of recognition. In seeking that action it is following the orderly American method of presenting the matter to local representative bodies such as the city commission, and asking from them an expression favoring such recognition. In making that request, it is but asking an expression in favor of what has been the accepted American doctrine for almost 130 years.

In 1872 Thomas Jefferson author of the Declaration of Independence and secretary of state under President George Washington set forth the American policy of recognition, as follows:

"It accords with our principles to acknowledge a government to be rightful which is formed by the will of the nation substantially declared." And it should be remembered that recognition does not mean intervention. That was made clear by Daniel Webster in 1843. In our controversy with Austria in connection with the contemplated recognition of Hungary, Webster stated that no recognition of Hungary would not have been an act against the law of nations provided this country took no part in her contest with Austria. At that time Mr. Webster was secretary of state.

With all due respect to those who have raised their voices in opposition to any action by the city commission, I insist that those who, today, favor recognition, stand upon the great fundamental principle of human liberty written into the Declaration of Independence.

MANDAN GETS WILTON GAME

In an interesting ball game, which was featured by hard, clean hitting and sharp fielding, Mandan broke into the win column Sunday afternoon by winning from Wilton 6 to 5. Wilton greeted 'Red' Russell, Mandan's new pitcher by smacking three lucky ones the first inning which were worth two scores on the blackboard. Spike Flaherty, who was pushing them over from the port side for the coal miners, passed La Tour, the first man up, and La Tour, by some smart base running, went all the way to third when he caught Flaherty napping. Tobin recovered his batting eye and crashed a double over second, scoring La Tour.

After the first inning Russell tightened up and pitched clever baseball, which was seaweed until the eighth, when Mandan bunched hits and put the game on ice.

Duluth Man Affirms His Belief That Tanlac Will Relieve Any Case of Rheumatism

"When it comes to completely knocking the rheumatism out of a man and making him feel fine this Tanlac has the world beat," said Julius Opland, a carpenter, 1015 East Ninth St., Duluth, Minn.

"I had been in the clutches of rheumatism for five months, and although I tried a dozen or more so-called treatments they did me no good. My right arm was so stiff I couldn't crank my elbow. Why I couldn't put my right hand up to my head so as to put my hat on, I couldn't lie on my right side, and I suffered so much pain I couldn't get the sleep I needed. Even to drive a nail or saw a piece of wood made me suffer agony, and I thought my days of work were about done for."

"When a friend first told me about Tanlac I just laughed, as I had lost faith in medicines, but, lucky for me, he kept after me until I tried it. Well, it did the work. First it built me up and then the rheumatism left me. I haven't a pain or an ache, and, more than that, I feel twenty years younger now. If anybody thinks Tanlac won't rid him of rheumatism, no matter how bad off he is, I wish he would get in touch with me and I'll soon convince him what he ought to do. Why, everybody who knows me knows the awful fix I was in, anybody can see at a glance how active and healthy looking I am now."

Visiting Sister
Mrs. Frank Barnes of Miles City, Mont., is in the city for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson. She will also be the guest of friends and relatives in Bismarck before returning to her home.

Ferry Tied Up
A number of baseball fans were over Friday evening to attend the twilight game between Bismarck and Minot. There was some slight delay occasioned at the ferry after the game, a piece of driftwood having caught in the rubber of the boat. The river being very high, it was thought advisable to tie up and remove the obstruction rather than take chances with a heavy load of cars.

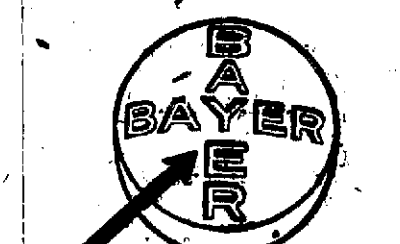

Give Fine Program
The Mandan Municipal band rendered a splendid program and an excellent crowd greeted their weekly concert on Friday evening. Scott Conyne sang two baritone solos with barytone accompaniment, which were very well received. The instrumental numbers were also well rendered.

Did You Know That—
There are 576,000,000 Christians in the world?

Of these 288,000,000 are Roman Catholics.
The total number of Protestants is 167,000,000.
The total number of eastern Catholics is 121,000,000.
There are 111,000,000 Mohammedans in the world.
Of these, 310,925,000 are Confucius and Taoists.
The total number of Hindus is 215,312,000.
There are more Christians in Europe than in any other continent (399,000,000).
In North and Central America there are 81,000,000 Christians.
There are only about 1,000 Buddhists, and 1,000 Shintolists in North and Central America.

The Catch.

A man remarked that he came from a very large family.

"How many of you are there?" he was asked.

"Well," there were ten of us boys," he said, "and each of us had a sister."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the other. "Then there were twenty of you?"

"No," said the boastful man, "eleven."

His Honor's Guess.

In Ireland some years ago an Irish American was brought up before Justice Barry on the charge of suspicious conduct. The officer who arrested him stated, among other things, that he was wearing a "Republican hat."

"Does your honor know what that is?" asked the counsel.

"It may be," responded the judge, "that it's a hat without a crown."

NATIONAL TRACTOR CONTEST TO BE STAGED AT FARGO, JUNE 28, 29, 30

Show Will Be Unique in Annals of Middle Northwest—Horses and Oxen to Compete.

Scores of Tractors Entered—Cost and Efficiency Tests and Varied Character of Exhibits to Give Demonstration Marked Educational Value to City and State—Square Mile of Space Allotted—100,000 Persons May Attend.

"ALL ABOUT THE BIG SHOW"

What it is: The first National Tractor Demonstration and Contest ever held in the Middle Northwest.

Time and place: June 28, 29 and 30, 1921, at Fargo, N. D.

Purpose: To show cost and efficiency of power and horse farming.

Scope of demonstration: 100 tractors of 40 to 60 different makes, shown by an association representing 98 per cent of the tractor manufacturers of the United States; horses and oxen also to be entered, with big prizes for each.

Scope of interest: Farmers and businessmen of North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana and the entire Northwest.

Demonstration plot: 645 acres—better than a square mile of space for demonstration and parking; more than 60 acres for auto and vehicle parking alone.

Expected attendance: (Based on committee's previous experience with these shows)—75,000 to 100,000 guests during the three days.

Reduced fares applied for; special train service guaranteed. No charge for admission to the grounds.

Fargo Commercial Club in charge of local arrangements. Write for particulars.

Is the tractor really the efficient and logical source of power for farming purposes in the Northwest? Well, public opinion might naturally be divided about that, but—

THE NORTHWEST IS GOING TO BE SHOWN!

You see, the farmers of Minnesota, Montana and the Dakotas have horses galore—a few oxen, too, that could be utilized for a contest—and the men composing the Show and Demonstration Committee of the National Implement and Vehicle Association have something like 100 tractors they'd like to enter for such an event. Result: Plans for the biggest tractor demonstration and farm-power contest ever held in the middle northwestern states. It's going to be held at Fargo, June 28, 29, 30—three notable days of information exhibits along agricultural lines! No admission charge will be made at the grounds.

Greatest Event of 1921.

The foregoing paragraphs but sketchily suggest the arrangements in progress for what promises to be the largest and most important farm gathering Fargo has ever been called upon to entertain; a gathering that will attract the attention of farmers and their families for hundreds of miles around. Its relative importance may be gathered from the fact that similar demonstrations held elsewhere about the country within recent years have customarily drawn an attendance of from 50,000 to 100,000 persons each. It is the first undertaking of similar magnitude ever proposed in this territory. Farm papers are featuring it this month as the greatest event the summer will produce.

What Fargo Contributes to Show.

What can be done to make such an event a success may be understood by the fact that the city of Fargo has secured and will contribute for the demonstration the use of 645 acres of ground near the city, to be used for tests and for the parking of visitors' automobiles. On this great tract scores of machines of every standard size and make are expected to show the efficiency with which they can plow and prepare the ground for seed.

Prizes for Horses and Ox Teams.

Besides these, the advocates of animal power for farm cultivation will demonstrate the feasibility of their plans; for five cash prizes aggregating $1,250 have been posted as an incentive for exhibits of this class. In addition to prizes hung up for his sower work, the Commercial Club of Fargo offers $200 as a prize for the best team of oxen entered. Here is a chance for any farmer in the Northwest to more than pay his expenses in the great show. Each contestant, by the way, must plow and prepare a plot of not less than 10 acres; the work to be completed in each case by the same man and tractor or team. Farmers wishing to enter for the contests should communicate in advance with E. E. Whaley, manager of the demonstration, in care of the Fargo Commercial Club.

Fine Site Chosen for Contest.

President Bartholomew, of the national committee of the tractor manufacturers in charge of the exhibition visited the scene of the proposed demonstration last week and pronounced the field to be the most ideal spot ever offered to the association for this purpose. Mr. E. E. Whaley of Spring field, Ohio, who is to manage the undertaking, arrived with him and viewed and approved the field. Mr. Whaley has been actively engaged in the management of similar enterprises for a number of years and will bring to the work the ripest experience of a life-long tractor man.

More Than Mere Tractor Show.

That the event is to be more than a mere show of tractors and farm power units is a fact of no little interest to the people of the state, since it is announced that the committee has a large concession adjoining the demonstration plot, upon which there will be erected the booths of manufacturers of every kind of agricultural machinery that may be offered for display. Among other equipment definitely promised for the event is an extensive showing of road making machinery, which will be exhibited in the actual work of grading, drawn both by tractors and trucks. The educational value of such an opportunity, on the whole, will readily be seen to be of advantage not only to actual farmers but to all who are interested in the success of this industry upon which all our prosperity is based.

Publicity Man States Plans.

John C. Pollock, chairman of the committee on publicity for the enterprise, has been busy preparing data relative to the demonstration, and advises that applications have been made to all railroads for reduced fares for the show. Special trains will be run where required, including a shuttle train service from Fargo to the exhibition grounds, a short distance west of town.

A particular activity explained by Mr. Pollock is that in which the proper committees have engaged to see that no excessive prices shall be charged for food, shelter and other necessities of visitors while present in the city or at the show. Auto service to and from the grounds will be operated at a reasonable rate. Pure drinking water and all necessary sanitary arrangements will be furnished free upon the grounds. Farmers' autos may be checked at the grounds, under protection, and at a very nominal fee.

Good Facilities for Camping.

Special attention is called to the advantages available to those who wish to bring their own tenting outfit and camp while visiting the demonstration. An abundance of space will be offered for the pitching of tents along Fargo's beautiful drives and scenic parks, so that the event may be made the basis for one of the pleasantest outings of the year.

PROGRAM FOR WAR MOTHERS IS ANNOUNCED

The program for the second state convention of American War Mothers to be held at Lisbon, N. D. Wednesday and Thursday, June 22-23, has been completed. Mrs. Albert E. Jones of Lisbon, president of the organization, will be the presiding officer. Mrs. H. S. Oliver, Valley City, twice president of the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs, will act as parliamentarian. North Dakota has the distinction of having the only Indian chapter of the American War Mothers, located at Fort Yates, N. D. Representatives from this chapter will be in attendance at the convention.

An interesting feature of the program will be the address, "Heart Memories of Three Wars, 1861, 1898 and 1917," by Mrs. Mary Taylor of Lisbon. Mrs. Taylor is 87 years of age and has seen husband, sons and grandsons march off to war. In spite of her advanced age, Mrs. Taylor is in possession of all her faculties and her talk is looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

Reports of the state officers, showing the progress of the society during the past year will be read at the afternoon session on Wednesday. Miss W. C. Cashman of Bismarck will read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mrs. C. C. Manning of Sheyenne, N. D., will give the treasurer's report. Mrs. Frank Smith of Lisbon, corresponding secretary, will give her report at this session. The state chapter reports will also be given at this time.

A launch ride on the Sheyenne river, followed by a picnic lunch at the Park pavilion will take up the first part of the afternoon session on Thursday. A short business meeting will follow by an auto ride about the city. The election of officers for the ensuing year will take place at the Thursday morning session.

The complete program for the two day session follows:

11.00—Registration, Armory.

12.00—Dinner, Hotel Bradford.

At Armory.

1.30—Singing, "America." Opening prayer by Mrs. M. E. Moore. Welcome—

AND THEY CALLED THEM BEAUTIFUL

Yes, my dear, they really walked and went about in them!

And they called these volumes and volumes of material dresses and suits, even as you and I call our brief beloved bits, dresses and suits.

These contrasts are two shown by models at the dinner-fashion show which the Cleveland Garment Manufacturers association gave for the entertainment of visiting garment makers when the national association met in Cleveland.

The suit, which is contrasted with the modern suit, is one of 15 years ago. The afternoon gown is on 1860 affair posed in contrast with a modern afternoon frock.

Curtis, for the Auxiliary, President Mrs. Myron Davis. Response, Mrs. Robert Orr, Bismarck. Greeting, State War Mother, Mrs. Albert Jones, 5.00—Tea.

Evening Session—Armory. 8.00—Overture, Galbreath orchestra. Community singing led by double quartet, in charge of Mrs. Karl Thoma. Invocation, Rev. Peter Edwards. ## BOOZE CAR TO BISMARCK HELD Jamestown, N. D., June 13.—Deputy Wellington Wright, of the state license department, started for Bismarck Saturday afternoon with a car of booze captured from whiskey runners near here, but did not get very far before he was recalled by the "tates attorney, who said the liquor should be held here as evidence. Wright said he was acting upon orders from Attorney-General Lemke's office.

GIVE $13 TO FLOOD RELIEF

Thirteen dollars was collected by the Salvation Army at a street meeting Sunday, for the relief of flood sufferers in Colorado.

A letter from Col. W. B. Barker, of the western department of the Salvation Army, to Capt. Huffman, of the local organization, said that the disaster is appalling. Hundreds of people in towns and cities lost their homes, and crops were ruined. The Salvation Army has a large number of workers in the Pueblo district, and the commissioner for that section was put in charge of the housing.

Any other contributions may be made direct to Capt. Huffman.

SEN. HARRISON TAKES SLAP AT GEORGE HARVEY

Wants to Know if There is Not Reason For His Recall

Washington, June 13.—Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, introduced today a resolution requesting President Harding to inform the senate "whether there is as much reason and justification for the reprimand and recall of Ambassador George W. Harvey for his Pilgrims Day speech of May 15, 1921, as for the reprimand or recall of Admiral William S. Sims for his speech of June 7, 1921."

The resolution also asked the president to report whether he directed or approved the recall order sent Admiral Sims "and why an order by the president or secretary of state of similar import is not issued against Ambassador George W. Harvey."

Senator Harrison's resolution also would have the president advise the
